

UK Electoral Roll Cheat Sheet

Overview

A list of the name and addresses of everyone registered to vote. There are two versions:

- Full Register: 43.7m people – Restricted access (e.g., police, credit agencies)
- Open Register: 16.3m people – Public, searchable version (opt-in only)

Why It Matters

- Confirm a subject's current address
- Identify co-residents (partners, relatives, flatmates)
- Find landline numbers with these searches
- Timeline insights from historical electoral data

Limitations

- Not everyone is listed – Only those opted into the open register are visible to non law enforcement investigators
- Updated infrequently – May not reflect recent moves
- No unique identifiers – Harder to resolve common names when people share common names without DOB

Where to Search

- 192.com – Open register and landline matches
- UK Phonebook – Open register and landline matches. Full Register to public sector via Orbis
- Genes Reunited – Good for older records
- Public Insights – Open register and landline matches, alongside other UK data

Tips and Considerations

- Search for subjects and known family members
- Consider alternative spellings
- Cross-reference with planning permissions, rentals, and land registry to get confirmation & determine property ownership
- Look for household context: co-residents, repeat surnames
- Determine if it is a current or former residence
- One person opting out, doesn't mean others don't appear – this may offer partial exposure

Investigation Support

- Executive Protection – Identify home addresses of principals or family members to assess exposure risks
- Fraud – Confirm declared address, detect phantom tenants, spot lifestyle mismatches
- Insider Threat – Verify employee details during investigations into misconduct, theft, or false claims
- Surveillance Planning – Confirm where a subject resides to plan observation or site visits
- Debt Recovery – Confirm current or previous addresses, identify co-residents who may assist in tracing
- Journalism – Validate identities, confirm residency, and establish timelines or household makeup
- Legal Cases – Link a person to a specific address during property disputes or asset investigations
